

Burton Clark

to

L.E. Froom

Jan. 15, 1968.

[excerpt]

I have just recently re-read these thru, and in the No. 7 of this series, p. 63 she also has the same quotation in regard to the Holy Spirit that you quoted to me from Evangelism, p 615. But (?) why was not the Holy Spirit present when -'Christ the Word, the only begotten of God, was one with the eternal Father, -one in nature, -in character, and in purpose, - the only being in all the universe that could enter into all the counsels and purposes of God.' G. C. p. 493.

Probably this is something that we should not stick our noses in!! But one cannot keep from wondering just the same. Just why was not the Holy Spirit not able to enter into that most important counsel? Nuff said."

[excerpt]